23.SCOPE

The purpose of this Policy Statement and related Operating Procedures relates to the Neighbourhood Centre's risk management framework and internal controls. This policy exists to assist the Board in fulfilling its responsibilities in overseeing the Centre's financial reporting, compliance and legal and regulatory requirements and overseeing the Centre's systems of internal control and its risk management framework.

24.POLICY STATEMENT

Risk Management is a systematic approach that creates focus on the things that the Centre needs to get right to achieve its outcomes. The Centre's philosophy is that risk and opportunity management are the same; as every opportunity contains a level of risk.

It is how the Centre manages that risk which will then lead to great outcomes and achievements.

The Centre's Risk Management Methodology incorporates a holistic and structured approach to the identification and mitigation of business risks. This standardised risk approach covers

- strategic,
- operational,
- reputational,
- compliance and
- financial risks.

The accountability for managing such key risks, rest with the Board of Management through its delegated authority and Governance Sub-Committee.

25. OBJECTIVES:

The objectives of this Policy Statement and associated procedures are to ensure that the Centre:

- meets the Centre's strategic and operational objectives whilst also minimising the impact of significant risks that the Centre can meaningfully and realistically control protect and enhance the Centre's reputation
- behaves as a responsible and ethical corporate citizen, protecting employees, volunteers, the Board and the broader community from harm and protecting physical property from loss or damage
- establishes the right balance between the cost of control and the risks it is willing to accept as part of the community development environment within which the Centre operates
- recognises and makes the most of opportunities, and increase organisational efficiency and resilience in relation to risk management
- oversees the effectiveness of the systems of internal controls and audits and external auditing
- oversees the policies and procedures to ensure compliance to meet the Australian Service Excellence Standards
- ensures the reputation of the Centre is not compromised by any risk taking, false advertising, breaches of its Code of Conduct.

26. GUIDING PRINCIPLES:

The development of Operating Procedures under this Policy Statement is based on the following guiding principles:

- Risk and opportunity go hand in hand. Many projects or activities undertaken by the Centre intend to offer or achieve something that hasn't been done before. Community development cannot always be achieved without sometimes taking risk.
- Risk in itself is not bad. Sometimes risk is essential to progress and failure is often a valuable part of learning. The Centre will strive to balance the possible negative consequences of risk against the potential benefits of any decision, action or proposal.

The Australian Standard for Risk Management - Principles and guidelines (AS/NZ ISO 31000:2009) is based on eleven best practice principles. These principles underpin this Policy and guide how it manages risk across the Centre.

- Creating and protecting value – contributes to the achievement of our objectives and improves performance in for example work health and safety, legal and regulatory compliance, environmental protection, project management, efficiency in operations and or governance and reputation.
- An integral part of all organisational processes – an integrated part of our governance, compliance, accountability, planning and reporting processes. Risk management is part of the Boards responsibilities and an integral part of processes such as strategic planning.
- Part of decision-making – risk awareness aids decision-makers to make informed choices and identify the most appropriate course of action.
- Explicitly addresses uncertainty – identifies uncertainty and how it can be addressed.

- Systematic, structured and timely – contributes to efficiency and to consistent and reliable results.
- Based on the best available information - draws on data, experience, expert judgment and stakeholder feedback to make evidence-based decisions.
- Tailored – aligns with the internal and external environment within which we operate and our willingness to take risk.
- Human and cultural factors – recognises that the capabilities, perceptions and aims of people (internal and external) can aid or hinder the achievement of our objectives.
- Transparent and inclusive – requires appropriate and timely involvement of stakeholders and decision makers to ensure that risk management stays relevant and up to date.
- Dynamic, iterative and responsive to change – responds to both internal and external events, results of monitoring and reviewing activities, new risks that emerge and others that change or disappear.
- Continual improvement of the organisation – supports the continuous improvement of our operations.

The success of risk management is dependent on the effectiveness of the Centre to provide the appropriate arrangements that will drive risk awareness throughout the organisation.

27. RESPONSIBILITIES:

All members of the Board of Management share the responsibility of mitigating risk throughout the organisation.

6. DEFINITIONS

Due diligence: taking reasonable steps - taking reasonable steps, or demonstrating due diligence, requires Officers to:

- Acquire and maintain work health and safety knowledge relevant to the workplace (the Centre).
- Understand the Centre's operations and associated hazards and risks.
- Ensure resources and processes are available to eliminate or minimise health and safety risks.
- Ensure there are appropriate processes for receiving and considering information about incidents, hazards and risks as well as respond to these in a timely way.
- Ensure the Centre has and implements processes to comply with any duties or obligations such as reporting incidents, consulting with workers, complying with notices issued under the Act, providing training and instructing workers about work health and safety, and making sure that Health and Safety Representatives receive training.

Hazard - means a situation or thing that has the potential to harm a person. Hazards at work may include: chemicals, electricity, working at heights, working alone, and violence at the workplace, bullying and doing a repetitive job.

Officer - an Officer under the Act is a person who makes or helps make decisions that affect the whole, or a substantial part, of a PCBU's (the Centre's) activities. If a person is responsible only for implementing, not making those decisions, they are not considered an Officer.

Officer - Duties - the duties of an Officer, established in the Work Health and Safety Act 2012 (SA), are that an Officer must:

- keep up to date with work health and safety issues
- Exercise due diligence to ensure the PCBU's (the Centre's) health and safety duties are met.

An Officer must actively fulfil this duty and not assume that someone else has taken care of health and safety outcomes.

Others - clients, customers and visitors (including workers from external agencies).

Others - Duties - the duties of others, established in the Work Health and Safety Act 2012 (SA), are that, while at work (i.e. at the Centre) they must:

- Take reasonable care for their own and others' health and safety
- Take reasonable care not to adversely affect the health and safety of others
- Comply with any reasonable instruction given by the PCBU (the Centre), so far as they are reasonably able.

Reasonably practicable – the Person Conducting a Business or Undertaking's - PCBU (the Centre's) duty is qualified by the words 'so far as is reasonably practicable'. There are two elements to what is 'reasonably practicable'. Officers must consider:

- What can be done – that is, what is possible in the circumstances for ensuring health and safety
- Whether it is reasonable in the circumstances to do all that is possible.

Factors that may determine whether something is 'reasonably practicable' include:

- The likelihood of the hazard or the risk concerned occurring
- The degree of harm that might result from the hazard or the risk
- What the person concerned knows, or ought reasonably to know about the hazard/risk and ways of eliminating the hazard/risk
- The availability and suitability of ways to eliminate or minimise the risk

- The cost associated with available ways of eliminating or minimising the risk, including whether the cost is grossly disproportionate to the risk
- What influence and control can be applied.

Risk - is the possibility that harm (death, injury or illness) might occur when exposed to a hazard.

Risk control means taking action to eliminate health and safety risks so far as is reasonably practicable, and if that is not possible, minimising the risks so far as is reasonably practicable. Eliminating a hazard will also eliminate any risks associated with that hazard.

Worker – a worker is someone who carries out work for a PCBU (the Centre) and includes:

- An employee
- A volunteer
- A contractor or sub-contractor (facilitators and group leaders)
- An employee of a contractor or sub-contractor
- An employee of a labour hire company
- An apprentice or trainee
- A student gaining work experience

Worker - Duties - the duties of a worker, established in the Work Health and Safety Act 2012 (SA), are that, while at work, a worker must:

- Take reasonable care for their own safety
- Ensure that they do not adversely affect the health and safety of co-workers or other people
- Comply with any reasonable instruction and co-operate with a PCBU's (the Centre's) Work Health and Safety Policy and Procedures including Safe Work Method Statements.

Workplace - workplace is a place where work is carried out for a business or undertaking and includes any place where a worker goes, or is likely to be, while at work. This includes a vehicle, vessel, or other mobile structure.
